Freight Week 15th to 21st September 2007 Melbourne

Freight Week is a series of conferences, launches, an exhibition and functions designed to debate, inform and develop ideas in the freight sector. For 2007 it includes ten separate conferences and a large exhibition. It attracts freight owners, freight movers, freight equipment vendors, freight solutions providers as well as government regulators, policy and enforcement personnel. Most events are staged at Caulfield Racecourse which is one of Melbourne's premier function venues.

Industry image, as well as the attraction, retention and training of the right people are major challenges for the freight and logistics sector. Join industry leaders talking about the next generation of jobs in the freight sector. Attend sessions on best practice recruitment and retention as well as training options across the entire spectrum of freight. Find out how your business can improve its recruitment and retention.

The Victorian Transport Association and the Victorian Automobile Chamber of Commerce organise Freight Week every second year in Melbourne. Originally known as Freight Congress, it has been held since 1991. It receives strong support from its Gold Partner Sponsors whose logos are featured on this page.
