

Race by Remote

Freight Connections takes an octane jump forward with our first ever... Race by Remote Freight Connections will amp it up at Freight Week 2007 with a unique event for young (and not so young) industry professionals. Transport's heavy hitters pack a little punch as some of Australia's top transport companies go head to head and battle it out on the track... in miniature.

10 companies have thrown down the gauntlet to compete in this special racing event.

10 mini monsters in full livery, signed, badged and tricked up...

Come along, grab a remote and test your mettle, cheer from the sidelines, have a drink with your peers, and enjoy a fantastic day out!

As part of Freight Week 2007, FUEL 'Your Transport Career' and Acceler8 - the two leading young supply chain and logistics professional groups - are once again combining their networking nous to bring you an event with a difference.

Freight Connections is a networking platform for young industry professionals in the supply chain, transport and logistics industries. The aim of this event is to bring young industry professionals together in a dynamic environment that is geared towards allowing these future leaders to network, create contacts and develop their career orientation. Freight and logistics is a huge, vibrant and highly competitive environment. Here is a chance to actively support and develop its future leaders.
